

Scores

Range:
[0, 3]

Real:
2.0

Predicted:
2.0

Prompt

Write a response that explains how the features of the setting affect the cyclist. In your response, include examples from the essay that support your conclusion.

Essay

The features of the setting were very affective in the story @CAPS1 t exceed @CAPS2 Speed Limit. It affected the cyclist because in one part of the setting it went to roling hills. That s going to be hard to pedal a bike on. Another was the setting affected the cyclist is at one point tumbleweeds were in his way. If the gets caught on the bike it could have caused him to fall and it could harm him. Lastly, the road started getting rough up ahead which could be hard to ride over potholes and thugs like that. Therefore, the setting was affecting to the cyclist.

Top-10 Higher
Feature Attribution Score

